

New Name HELLO MONSTER

METAWORLDS BECOMES HELLO MONSTER!

We're entering a new era for Wonder Wars, as the team has decided to leave behind the names MetaWorlds and ChiliCheeseGames, which corresponded to an earlier vision, and adopt HelloMonster.

The vision is simple: do everything with the player in mind.

The game is a success-focused experience. Looking at the history of video games, it's clear that successful companies are built on a great product. They remove the line that separates web2 from web3, offering gamers a superior experience to what they could get before.

GAMES FOR PLAYERS.

Their aim is to offer gamers an exceptional user experience. They aspire to go further in this new era and solve the real problems. That's where blockchain's opportunities lie. The first step is to create a good game, and that's where Wonder Wars comes in! They currently have over 50,000 downloads and more than 5,000 active users. For a project like this, user trust is essential, and that's where Alvaro845's reputation and experience in the field come in very handy.

What about web3?

They, the project managers at HelloMonster, fully understand the importance of web3, as players themselves. Collecting, exchanging and enjoying their own content has become an obsession for them. So they're building an ecosystem based on these pillars.

MORE INFORMATION ON NAME CHANGE

NAME CHANGE: CHILLI CHEESE GAMES AND METAWORLDS BECOME HELLO MONSTER

The developer of Wonder Wars, formerly known as Chilli Cheese Games/Metaworlds, recently unveiled its new name: Hello Monster. This transition marks an important step for the studio, motivated by a desire for renewal and clarity.

According to Hello Monster representatives, the change was necessary for several reasons. Firstly, the old name, Metaworlds, was perceived as outdated, no longer reflecting the dynamic and innovative image of the studio. In addition, the confusion between the two previous names was a determining factor. Gamers often wondered whether Chilli Cheese Games and Metaworlds were two separate entities, or simply two facets of the same team. By unifying the two under a single name, Hello Monster eliminates this ambiguity and offers a more coherent identity.

While the name change may seem cosmetic, it's actually of great significance to Hello Monster. The people behind the development of Wonder Wars remain unchanged, but the new name symbolizes a new era for the studio. With many promising projects in the pipeline, the time was right for Hello Monster to mark this turning point in its evolution.

CONCLUSION

Wonder Wars fans and followers of the studio can therefore expect the same quality and passion for video games, but under a refreshed and unified banner. Change is already underway, and Hello Monster is ready to welcome the future with optimism and determination.

NEW ALLIANCES!

HELIKA

A promising new collaboration is born in the world of online gaming, as the team behind HelloMonster proudly announces its partnership with Helika Gaming. This strategic partnership, part of Helika's accelerator program, aims to propel HelloMonster's growth to new heights.

"When you know where you want to go, you push to get there faster," says a HelloMonster spokesperson, underlining the team's commitment to innovation and the rapidly evolving industry. With the help of Helika Gaming's advanced technological solutions and experienced team, HelloMonster is preparing to take a decisive step forward in its journey.

A WIN-WIN PARTNERSHIP

This partnership is based on a shared vision and ambition to revolutionize the Web3 gaming ecosystem. Together, HelloMonster and Helika Gaming are determined to push back the boundaries and open up new perspectives in the world of online gaming.

CONCLUSION

"We've only just begun," says HelloMonster, reflecting the enthusiasm and determination to seize the opportunities offered by this promising partnership. Expectations are high, but with their dynamic collaboration, HelloMonster and Helika are ready to meet the challenges and achieve great things together.

NEW ARRIVALS!

At a recent session at Bar Orumit, lively discussions took place concerning the future of the game. Among the points discussed, the introduction of new PvE modes attracted a great deal of interest. One particularly intriguing proposal was the addition of a "draft" system, where players could choose from a selection of Wonders to go through rounds, promising more special and entertaining gameplay experiences.

In addition, one idea mooted was the integration of community-created characters as pets in the game, offering an extra touch of personalization and originality. A similar proposal is to introduce community-created mascots into the game, potentially through a contest or competition. These discussions reflect the ongoing commitment of the community and developers to innovate and enrich the gaming experience for all players.

META AND DECK OF THE MONTH!

The metadeck of the month for April was, without a doubt, the Hallur-Blurp deck. The authorship of this deck has been a source of controversy of late, the main suspects being Albert03 and Pollosauriorex.

The strategy behind this composition is simple: take advantage of the boosts granted by Yoyu with its field ability, first and foremost, in order to give life and infinite attacks to Hallur. Note that Hallur, as such, every time he takes damage, his attack is increased by 10 points and he recovers 10HP.

The easiest way to start, but also the riskiest, is to pit Hallur against the hero in round 1, and hope that the blow is not guessed by the opponent.

If all goes well, all that's left is to protect Hallur with shields, then boost and heal him.

If you fail, don't worry, there's still hope. However, the game will take a little longer. You must try to regroup the ranks, to build a solid line, based on the Gyzorbots, Shyor and Shameera. Swap troops, interspersing turns with Kulth and his ability; and when possible, look for a new victory condition, with Yoyu's help. In other words, increase the attack of any of your other troops.

Its most controversial clashes would be similar to those we mentioned last year with Stinky: Sicksy, and its Puncy Fury, or the Stomp/Assault ability with Haralk's Wounds. While it's true that facing Haruaki isn't easy, it's possible to win if you can get rid of his Hallur or Ragor in the first few rounds.
